DEPARTMENT OF REGULATION AND LICENSING
FOR WISCONSIN-REGISTERED INTERIOR DESIGNERS

Volume 2, No.2

June, 1999

Legislative Update

Biennial Budget Bill 1999 AB 133/SB 45. -This bill contains 12 items that were recommended by Governor Tommy Thompson and which directly or indirectly affect all credential holders in the Department of Regulation & Licensing. Some of the most noteworthy recommendations from the perspective of registered interior designers are: the expansion of information technology services, creating an Information Technology Specialist position, extension of a Division of Enforcement project, line costs for background checks through the Crime Information Bureau, revised fees for original licenses and license renewal, permission for the Department to assess additional fees if an the Department to cancel a credential if a demand for payment under a credit or debit card transaction is not paid. The proposed fees for an original license as a registered interior designer would increase from $41 to $47. The fee for renewing a registration certificate would also increase from $41 to $47. The fee for an original credential is the same for all occupations and professions in the Department. Renewal fees, however, vary by the cost of enforcement of each type of credential and by the number of credential holders that foot the bill for such costs. However, since no complaints have been received by the Department in regard to the practice of registered interior designers, the fees for original registration and for renewal are the same.

List of Registered Interior Designers

As of April 9, 1999, the interior designers listed on the following pages are registered with the Department. Other persons may have registered at one time; however, if their name is not on the list, either they failed to renew their registration or there is an error in the list.

Why would some people not renew? They may have concluded that they don't want to be registered any longer, they may not have taken the continuing education courses or they may be delinquent in the payment of taxes to the Department of Revenue.

New IDEP Program

On February 8, 1999, the Department and other state boards and agencies regulating interior designers received the following letter from Susan Krug, Communications Manager at the National Council For Interior Design Qualification. The letter pertains to a new Interior Design Experience Program (IDEP). Ms. Krug's letter consists of the following paragraphs between quotations:

“Enclosed you will find a quantity of brochures for the Interior Design Experience Program (IDEP) for your distribution. NCIDQ needs your assistance in publicizing this important program.

IDEP is a monitored documented, experience program administered by NCIDQ for graduates of interior design education programs. The program has been developed to assist entry level interior designers in obtaining a broad range of quality experience. IDEP serves as the essential transition between formal education and professional practice, recognizing the unique differences between programs of education and diversity of practice.

Most important, IDEP facilitates the development of competent interior designers who can provide exemplary interior design services and work as members of teams of professionals involved in the production of the built environment. Ultimately, better qualified interior designers will lead to an elevation of the interior design profession.

During the 1999 pilot of the program, entrance is restricted to those individuals who have graduated from a FIDER Professional Level Program within the past two years. Applicants for the program pilot will be chosen on a first-come basis. In the future, the program will be open to others: in 2000, graduates of other professional level degree programs, in 2001, graduates of FIDER Pre-Professional Level Programs, and in 2002, graduates of other pre-professional programs.

Please let me know if we can send you additional brochures for promoting this program to your contacts.

Feel free to call me with any questions, 202/721-0220, extension 23.

Thank you for your support of NCIDQ programs.”

The Department received 10 brochures and mailed them to members of the Interior Designers Advisory Committee. Other interested persons should call the telephone number listed in Ms. Krug’s letter, in order to obtain more information.

The following statements in the brochure are particularly noteworthy:

- Funding for the research and implementation of this program was made possible by the generosity of the Institute of Business Designers Foundation and the International Society of Interior Designers Foundation.
- By completing this program, participants will be better prepared for the NCIDQ examination.
- The program provides a professional mentor for support and advice in the initial critical phase of an interior design career.

- There are no direct costs to the employing firm.
- The program tracks participant development through experience time sheets.
- All IDEP participants must find their own jobs; the program is not designed as an employment placement service.
- Typically, entry level designers will participate in the program for a minimum of 3,520 experience hours.
- There must be an agreement with an employer to participate in the program.
- Supervisors must be NCIDQ certificate holders or licensed/registered certified interior designers.
- Participants must notify NCIDQ of any change in employment or supervisor.
- Employment must be in the practice of interior design.
- The initial IDEP application fee is $75.
